12. At the bottom of the screen there are two buttons. These are explained below:

- Add to Schedule: The Schedule functionality in Workday allows you to add course sections to a semester-specific list for the purposes of planning. You can add course sections to this schedule at any time because you are not actually registering in the class yet. Once you are eligible to register, you can view this schedule and register in the course sections you have selected.
- Register: Note that this button will only appear if you are currently eligible to register in the course section for this semester. This button allows you to register in the course section if you are eligible to register.
